Objective:

The current analysis of data reveals that Indian startups are disrupting way ahead of the conventional industry by seizing the opportunities and innovating across sectors. Over 30 startups joined the unicorn club in 2021 and we are still counting. As we witness a large number of startups focused on cutting-edge technologies such as Artificial Intelligence, Machine Learning, and the Internet of Things, they face multiple data-related challenges. Businesses venturing into international markets are stumbled on strategic and legal questions of GDPR in Europe and now data protection law in India. MeitY Start-up Hub' (MSH) and European Business & Technology Centre have come together for a session that shall help Indian businesses and startups understand the key elements of data compliances when receiving data from third parties and internationalising into European Countries.

Participants:

The session is focused on sharing valuable insights on Global Data Protection Rights (GDPR) and new Indian Data protection and privacy laws introduced recently. The discussion will provide an opportunity to the audience to get insights from the experts who are working in the Europe-India business & Policy corridor on data-related initiatives. The session shall bring together thought leaders of Europe – India business corridor, including select policymakers, think tanks, business leaders, representatives from governments, legal from Europe and India.

European Business and Technology Centre (EBTC)

EBTC is a project facilitation and advisory company, enabling development cooperation and collaborations between Europe and India. As a service provider to public and private sector projects, EBTC focuses on enhancing economic activity and supporting the internationalisation of businesses in India and Europe. EBTC's initiatives are guided by standards of sustainability and innovation.

EBTC was constituted as an outcome of an EU-India Summit in 2008, where it was decided to create a body that would support cross-border collaborations for clean and sustainable solutions. Whilst EBTC thereby started as a Project, co-funded by the EU, with a mandate to enhance multilateral cooperation in sustainability and climate change, EBTC transformed itself into a self-sustainable section 8 company headquartered in New Delhi, India.

Europe-India Startup Forum
